PANTA RHEI by FLORIAN GYPSER

Panta Rhei is a famous aphorism by Greek philosopher Heraclitus meaning "everything is in a state of flux." This is what designer Florian Gypser wanted to incorporate in his 100% handmade creation: a chair that accommodates cuddly interactions for two but can also be arranged in group seating configuration in order to adapt to all the needs of its occupant.

Even its fluid cantilever design evokes this flexibility, with attractive slick curves and lively color contrasts. The alluring chair, on its own or in a variety of creative arrangements, presents the absolute addition to lobbies, lounges, private clubs and, why not, your darling living room, making interaction truly irresistible.

Panta Rhei es un famoso aforismo del filósofo griego Heráclito que significa "todo está en un estado de cambio." Esto es lo que el diseñador Florian Gypser quería incorporar en su creación 100% hecha a mano: una silla que se adapte a las interacciones afectuosa para dos, pero también permite configuración en grupo de asientos con el fin de adaptarse a todas sus necesidades.

Incluso su diseño voladizo fluido evoca esta flexibilidad, con curvas resbaladizas atractivas y contrastantes de colores vivos. La silla de fascinación, por sí misma o en una variedad de composiciones creativas, presenta la adición absoluta a vestíbulos, salones, clubes privados y, por qué no, en su acorredor salón, hacienda la interacción verdaderamente irresistible.

SLICED VASE by Frederik Van Heereveld

You might recognize the handiwork of Belgian furniture designer Frederik van Heereveld (FEEK) from the formerly posted Q(ue) Couch-he's obviously got a thing for layers and plastic. His newest creation, the Sliced Vase is comprised of precision-cut, uh, slices of polyethylene plastic adhered together to form a vessel.
